

(ii). Same as above

The landscape (1)..... (rise) from the lowlands in the east to the Himalayas in the west. High plateaux and mountains (1).....(occupy) one third of the area. The coastline on the Yellow Sea is flat at the mouths of China's two major rivers, the Yangtze and the Huanghe. Unfortunately, rapid industrialization (3) (destroy) much of the plant and animal life in the country.

Most people (4) (live) in rural regions. Rice production(5) (provide) enough food for the local population and surpluses are exported. However, the economy (6) (develop)rapidly and as a result, China (7)..... (open up) to world markets. China (8)..... (export) many inexpensive processed goods, including machinery and textiles, and income from foreign trade and tourism (9)..... (increase).